Your instructor and TA will not examine your comments until after the session has ended and they have turned in the narrative evaluation of your work.

What do you think were the most important ideas and/or skills you learned in this course?

I think the science behind behavior was the most important idea I learned in this course.

Would you recommend this course to other students? Why or why not?

I would recommend this course because it was very fun but also I gain immense knowledge of it.

Please comment on the strengths of your instructor and suggest ways, if any, that your instructor's teaching might improve:

My instructor always made the class do interactive activities that assured we understood the concepts.

Please comment on the strengths of your TA and suggest ways, if any, that your TA's teaching might improve:

My TA was always helping all the students if needed and provided helpful suggestions to us.

What do you think were the most important ideas and/or skills you learned in this course?

I was very new to this subject, so taking this course opened me up to a whole new field in science.

Would you recommend this course to other students? Why or why not?

I would recommend this course. It's very interesting, and we cover lots of information without being overwhelmed.

Please comment on the strengths of your instructor and suggest ways, if any, that your instructor's teaching might improve:

My instructor was great. She made sure we were all learning while enjoying ourselves.

What do you think were the most important ideas and/or skills you learned in this course?

I learned how to write effective essays and organize my thoughts, all under a time constraint. The most important idea I learned is that science is quickly changing — we may look back at 1600s theories and laugh, but people in 2500 would do the same about psychology, since the topic is still very new.

Would you recommend this course to other students? Why or why not?

Definitely; the activities are fun, and opportunities like this are not often found in school. These instructors were genuinely excellent.

What do you think were the most important ideas and/or skills you learned in this course?

I don't know exactly; to name them all would take too long. I think it just know myself better.

Would you recommend this course to other students? Why or why not?

Yes, absolutely! However, without Brenda Yang it would have been much less captivating + understandable.

What do you think were the most important ideas and/or skills you learned in this course?

Since it's psychology, everything about the brain was important to me, but if I had to choose it would be the different parts of our brain & its functions. Also, the memory portion.

Would you recommend this course to other students? Why or why not?

Definitely yes! It's very interesting and you learn alot of facts while still formulating your own opinions on certain debatable topics.

Please comment on the strengths of your instructor and suggest ways, if any, that your instructor's teaching might improve:

She's always very cheerful and takes the time to discuss & explain things to us. She gives good feedback & advice on our work.

Please comment on the strengths of your TA and suggest ways, if any, that your TA's teaching might improve:

She's very good at getting certain tasks done & providing useful advice, knowledge and tips.

What do you think were the most important ideas and/or skills you learned in this course?

More than anything about psychology, I learned about the best values to have in class : joy, community, and ingenuity (not saying that the course material was not important). I learned to utilize them to have the best learning experience.

Would you recommend this course to other students? Why or why not?

I would. The teacher and TA's knowledge is wide, and they are always willing to entertain your thoughts and interests. The material is very interesting as is well taught.

Please comment on the strengths of your instructor and suggest ways, if any, that your instructor's teaching might improve:

Ms. Yang is excellent at explaining concepts, and she finds ways to relate what we learn to everyday life.

Please comment on the strengths of your TA and suggest ways, if any, that your TA's teaching might improve:

Chaparelle is always willing to help and also has quite an extensive knowledge of the subject.

What do you think were the most important ideas and/or skills you learned in this course?

- Thinking about the brain and mind in a new way
- Lots of insightful things about language + memory.
- learning about different structures of the brain and their physiology.
- This is a course where so many things are theoretical or based on models, so we have to

Would you recommend this course to other students? Why or why not?

Depends. There's a lot of essay writing in this course, so whoever does this HAS to have some degree of availability to write. We also had to present quite a few things and speak up, so people who are shy would have a disadvantage. The content is similar to college-level, so this course is a really fun and interesting challenge, but only if the person is willing to learn.

Please comment on the strengths of your instructor and suggest ways, if any, that your instructor's teaching might improve:

One good part about Brenda is that she has a very happy disposition, and outside of class, is a great person to be around. I think she has a really good sense of humour, and adds cartoons for a very funny teaching style. She also planned a really wide variety of activities for us, which kept everything interesting. Maybe one suggestion would be to avoid really big class discussions, because most of our class was really shy. We also were horrible at keeping focus at the computer lab, so maybe not have scenarios where she can't keep an eye on us)

Please comment on the strengths of your TA and suggest ways, if any, that your TA's teaching might improve:

I think that Chaparrelle is such a nice person, and she's always so approachable, so many people always ask her for help. She doesn't TA TEACH a lot of material, but when she does, she prepares A LOT of material and gives really thorough presentation. One suggestion would maybe be to be confident: she's not very assertive when presenting things.
